Bonaire, Fall 2008

We still have a few more spaces left on our fall trip to Bonaire. Bonaire is a small island located in the southern Caribbean approximately 50 miles off of the coast of Venezuela. Bonaire is known for its pioneering role in the preservation of nature, in particular the preservation of the marine environment, and for its excellent scuba diving, snorkeling, and windsurfing, among other things. Many descriptions and slogans have been written about Bonaire: Best Kept Secret, Unhurried, Unspoiled, Unforgettable; Diver's Paradise; and the list goes on... Call Carrie soon for more details about our late October trip.
